Newsletter of the Eastham Dog Owners' Association

Upcoming Events: Tomorrow!!!

"Recall, Reward, Repeat" April 25 6:00—7:00P.M. @ Council on Aging, Nauset Rd.

Hear from the experts what recall looks like and how to train your dog to do it reliably. Heather T. Garre Day KPA-CTP and Stephanie Sykes, Eastham ACO are the speakers. EDOA is sponsoring this special event.

Given the hard-won retainment of usage rules in Wiley Park, we encourage all dog handlers using the park to be aware of enforcement and etiquette regarding off-leash dogs.

We see this as a terrific introduction to future services and training opportunities. Sorry, no dogs this time.

EDO Salutes Earth Day with Service

EDOA volunteers arrived at 8:30 A.M. with buckets at the ready to celebrate Earth Day 2024 with a good cleaning. Some of the good folks from Nauset Septic Pumping were there to lend a hand.

Not that it was much needed. Reports were that the climate of care by dog handlers in the park has resulted in dog waste pickup being done on a continual basis. Human users have been equally conscientious. More evidence that the citizens of Eastham celebrate Earth Day every day.

The pickup party ended up moving to the surrounding street-side areas where pickin's were a little "better". (Darn those passers-through).

On the Web—EDO's Facebook Page

A number of EDOA members, dog-lovers, and supporters enjoy posting on our Facebook Page. Lately a number of wicked cute photos have been posted. Here are a couple pix for those of us who do not visit FB regularly.

Eastham's ACO Stephanie Sykes with Rosie at the Rabies / microchip clinic last weekend.

Ready for the dogs at the Eastham Veterinary Hospital and the Rabies clinic. EDOA board member Diane Cullen on the left.

Little lost pup found and waiting comfortably in the new ACO truck to be reunited with its owner.

Below, the well protected chasers of the recent solar eclipse.

Safety first. Cuteness a close second.
